FOR FALL PLANTING...

Plantings made in the fall, if given normal protection and kept well watered until the ground freezes, will become established, make root-growth, and start off in early spring like veteran plants.

September is an excellent month to plant Hardy Perennials and Evergreens.

Roses and many other deciduous shrubs and trees are best planted in October and November.

Plant this fall while stocks are complete, plants fresh, and the ground warm and workable to receive them. Plant this fall and enjoy next spring.

New Rose
RED BOY

FALL is the Best Time to PLANT ROSES

The B. & A. Rose Collection

Bobbink & Atkins have the largest commercial collection of Roses in the world. We grow over 1000 varieties of Roses and have a few plants of scores of varieties not listed in our catalogues. Write us about any Rose you want and the chances are that we can fill the order.

Refer to our Spring 1940 Catalogue and our booklet, "Old-Fashioned Roses," for rare and out-of-the-ordinary Roses. Look over this folder for novelties and varieties not found in other catalogues and make your garden different by growing some of these almost unknown Roses.

CARDINAL DE RICHELIEU

Old-Fashioned Rose Collection

These are the Roses our ancestors enjoyed a century ago. They bloom but once each year but the hardy, shrubby plants bear quantities of beautiful fragrant flowers that are distinctly different.

Cardinal de Richelieu. (French.) Rich black-crimson.

Gros Provins Panachee. (French.) Some of the flowers are violet streaked with white, others are white streaked violet.

Kazanlik. (Damask.) Bright rosy pink.

Old Pink Moss. (Moss.) Rose-pink.

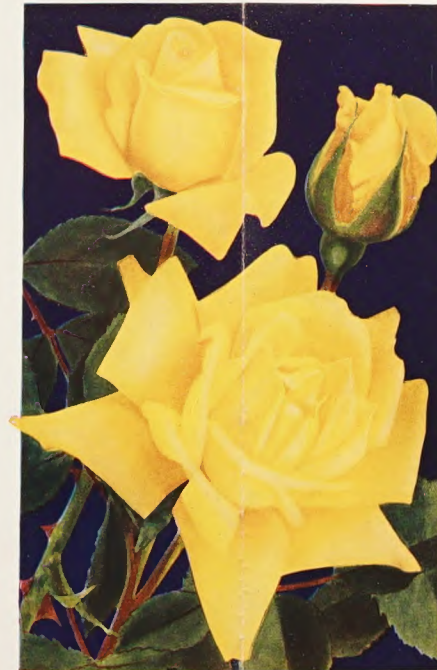

Red Moss. (Moss.) Reddish rose.

Rose des Peintres. (Centifolia.) Pink.

GOLDEN GLOW

George the Fourth H. China

This famous old Rose was found in the first batch of seedlings raised by Rivers about 1830. Rivers in his "Rose Amateurs Guide," 1863, said he was especially attracted by the crimson-purple tinge of the foliage. Unfortunately there is no record of the parentage, Rivers merely saying that it was an accident. The blooms are of good size, loosely double, of cupped form and the color vivid crimson shaded with dark purple has a strong appeal for lovers of old-time Roses.

The plants make average Hybrid Perpetual growth and produce a splendid June crop of bloom.

Price $2.50 per plant

BOBBINK & ATKINS, East Rutherford, N. J.

FALL PLANTING . . .

Fall is the ideal time to plant Roses in a large part of the United States. The freshly dug plants go to you without any loss of vitality and have a chance to get properly settled before the ground freezes.

Fall-planted Roses will start off next spring like old, established plants and give a much better bloom display the first year than spring-planted Roses can possibly do.

At this time of year our lists are complete, and we rarely have to disappoint a customer by saying a wanted variety is sold out, as frequently happens in spring. Order now and plant this fall.

SHRUB ROSES—Rugosas and Their Hybrids

Rugosa Roses are particularly valuable for hardiness, healthiness, and ability to thrive under most adverse conditions of soil and climate, withstanding almost anything. A good many of these are remontant. We strongly advocate planting them during the fall months where conditions permit.

HON. LADY LINDSAY

EVERYBODY'S ROSES...

Because of lack of room this folder is not listing the standard varieties of Hybrid Teas, Climbers, Polyanthas, etc., but ask you to refer to our Spring 1940 Catalogue for detailed lists. (If you do not have a copy ask us for one.)

We have several hundred varieties of Hybrid Teas alone, practically every variety both old and new that is worth growing. A list of all the Climbing Roses growing in the Bobbink & Atkins Nursery would surprise the best-informed rosarians, and a walk through our collection of Hybrid Perpetuals at bloom-time would bring joy to the heart of a lover of the Roses of yesterday.

Visit our Nursery and see our Roses in bloom and then look over this great collection of the world's best ornamental plants. You don't have to shop around for garden material; it's all here.

AZALEA pontica coccinea speciosa

This is only one of the many dazzling colors represented in this group. Colors range from white, pink, scarlet, to red. Double and single flowers.

Azalea pontica and rustica fl.-pl.
Hybrids

We have a most complete collection of these Azaleas in many colors and named varieties. All Sizes. Send for List.

HARDY AZALEAS, Deciduous, Japanese and Native

For brilliant coloring and profusion of bloom, there are no other shrubs that can rival the Azaleas.

These are not evergreen but are hardier and do not require as much care as the evergreen varieties. Fine for shrubberies, rockeries, and naturalizing.

CHINESE AZALEA
(A. Mollis)

Notable for the variety and delicacy of its numerous shades of yellow, orange and salmon flowers. Very hardy; thrives under ordinary garden treatment. Useful in porch and foundation planting, as a foreground planting with large shrubs, as an undergrowth treatment among tall trees, or as specimens. Blooms May 10 to 20. Mixed colors. Each 10
